Client Assistance Program

In 2017 the Client Assistance Program (CAP) came to DRSC. This program has expanded our efforts to make sure that people with disabilities have the supports and services they need to help them work. Using CAP funding we assist individuals who receive or want to receive services from the South Carolina Vocational Rehabilitation Department (VR) or the South Carolina Commission for the Blind (SCCB) understand their rights to services. We also use CAP funding to help people understand their employment rights; such as their rights to reasonable accommodations and to be free from disability related discrimination. People should contact us when they have been turned down for services by VR or SCCB, need a better plan for VR or SCCB to help them go back to work, or need to better understand their rights. We can also help if people are not receiving the services they need from independent living centers.
